DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Species 1: Figure 3 drawn to a tube geometry motor structure.

Species 2: Figure 4 drawn to a greatly elongated tube geometry motor structure.

Species 3: Figure 5 drawn to a v-shaped tube geometry motor structure.

Species 4: Figure 6 drawn to a cylindrical tube geometry motor structure.

Species 5: Figure 7 drawn to a tube geometry motor structure with a magnetic air gap sleeve.

Species 6: Figure 8 drawn to a tube geometry motor structure with an external second magnetic air gap.

Species 7: Figure 9 drawn to a tube geometry motor structure with an internal second magnetic air gap.

Species 8: Figure 10 drawn to a tube geometry motor structure with a channel component providing a second magnetic air gap.

Species 9: Figure 11 drawn to a tube geometry motor structure including two tube members butted end to end and coupled together by mating components inside the tube.

Species 10: Figure 12 drawn to a tube geometry motor structure in which mating channel components are external to the tube.

Species 11: Figure 13 drawn to a hybrid tube geometry motor structure.

Species 12: Figure 14 drawn to a push-pull tube geometry motor structure.

Species 13: Figure 16 drawn to an external magnet geometry motor structure with a laminated pole and laminated top and bottom plates of uniform flat segments.

Species 14: Figure 17 drawn to an external magnet geometry motor structure with a laminated pole and laminated top and bottom plates of wedge shaped segments.

Species 15: Figure 18 drawn to an internal magnet geometry motor structure with a laminated pole and laminated top and bottom plates of wedge shaped segments.

Species 16: Figures 19 and 20 drawn to a tube geometry motor structure with a partially laminated tube of multiple flat segments.

Species 17: Figure 21 drawn to a v-shaped top plate segment for a laminated v-tube motor.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

A telephone call was made to Richard Calderwood on October 31, 2006 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Brian Ensey whose telephone number is 571-272-7496. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Friday 6:30 AM - 3:00 PM.
